

Chris Hortsch, born March 22, 1986 started his apprenticeship as media-designer of digital media and printmedia with specialization on mediadesign non-print on September 1, 2004

Mr. Hortsch has been trained by us on the above mentioned job for the regular 3 years.

After a very successful graduation with an award on July 6, 2007 we naturally employed him on August 1, 2007. He took over a wide and many-sided area of responsibility that especially included the following activities:

The design and digital setup of different advertising media, like leaflets advertisements and displays including the different print methods. Additionally the design, programming and realisation of different websites and online-stores.

The acquisition of the necessary artworks and the cooperation with companies for lithographic print and print shops as well as the coordination with the customers were in his responsibility. He used the usual software like FreeHand and Photoshop together with Quark-Xpress, In Design and Dreamweaver.

Moreover he was always able to use his knowledge to get acquainted with other software and production processes. In any situation he showed a keen perception and was able to pursue a given scheme even under great pressure. He always demonstrated self initiative and impressed by his total commitment to the company.

He always carried out this tasks assiduously and we treasured him as an employee who's commitment was always above average.

He was always polite and helpful when dealing with customers, colleagues and seniors. His outgoing character and his distinctive ability to work in a team was also treasured by his colleagues.

In autumn 2007 he had to start his civil service and therefore left our company on August 31, 2007.

We regret this and wish him the best for his future.
